“North 2 South: Everglades Watershed”

Mollie Doctrow is Curator at the South Florida Community College Museum of Florida Art & Culture in Avon Park, Florida. Her work has been featured in many solo and group exhibitions, and she has lectured widely and conducts workshops on woodcut art. She has held art residencies at Big Cypress National Preserve, Everglades National Park and Archbold Biological Station. These residencies provided access to remote and pristine areas in Florida, inspiring much of her recent work.

During March Mollie will be exhibiting her art work in the Pauline Reeves Gallery. This exhibit of woodcuts depicts locations of the Everglades watershed from the Lake Wales Ridge to Everglades National Park. Slogging through swamps, wading through weeds and getting off the beaten path, she sketches native habitats and makes environmental woodcuts. These printed woodcuts are portraits of plants and plant communities, some endemic, rare and endangered. For more information about the artist and her work, visit website www.doctrow.com.

The Friends of the Museum will host a reception to “Meet the Artist” from 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturday, March 8, at the Museum.
